

It's Wash Day! But Elise doesn't want to wash her hair.

Will a visit from her favorite Auntie CC, encouragement from her big sister, Gisele, a poem laced with magic, and a special gift passed down from the women who came before her be enough to change her mind?

From Cotton to Silk: The Magic of Black Hair encourages girls everywhere to appreciate their hair in its natural state and love themselves just the way they are. Its enchanting pages reveal 467 hours of hand-stitching poured into textile renderings that blend cloth, culture, and the superpowers of the kinky, curly coif.

"An absolute love letter to my younger, tender-headed self. A warm, embracing, and absolutely needed story for the little girl in all of us."

—Korto Momolu, Fashion Designer and Style Curator, Project Runway Finalist

"A feast for the eyes and the spirit of all Black children. Crystal C. Mercer has blended fine art, quilting, and literary excellence!"

—Bisa Butler, Fiber Artist, Storyteller

Format: 8.5 x 11 Hardback
ISBN: 978-19-44528-24-9
Retail Price: $19.95
Pages: 36

Category: Self-esteem, Family Life,
Black + African American Story Books
Reading Level/Age: K-3, 4-8 Years
Distribution: Et Alia Press, Ingram

et alia

etaliapress.com

